

Yes, it does feel so good. God has done nothing but bless me since I have gotten sober. I have been home for three years. I haven't touched anything for 2 1/2 years. I have a beautiful apartment; I have nice things. Don't want or need for anything. I have a husband that adores me. I have the sweetest little dog and cat, and my family actually believes in me and supports me, and God has never left me through any of it. I could not be happier; and in a month and a half I will have the sweetest little boy to look up to me and I have never looked more forward to anything in my life. I love you, Ms. Jennings, and I am thankful that you have always stayed in contact with me even in my worst of days.
